

Skelton Honors Scholarship

The Skelton Honors Scholarship supports international travel experiences of Honors College students in their last two years of undergraduate study. The international travel experience must appear on the Virginia Tech transcript. Eligible students must be able to demonstrate involvement in leadership activities, have a 3.7 or better cumulative GPA, and must have completed at least six hours of foreign language classes at the university level.

Application Process and Selection

The application is open until the last business day in November. Announcement of the winner(s) will be made by the last day of classes in the fall semester. The winner(s) will receive funding for spring or summer study abroad experiences planned for the same academic year. Submit application to Russell Shrader at rbshrade@vt.edu.
