CANDIDATE PROFILE

KEY CHARACTERISTICS SOUGHT BY REVIEW COMMITTEE

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Gates Cambridge Scholars are expected to be academically outstanding with the ability to make a significant contribution to their discipline while in Cambridge. At the start of the application process, potential Scholars are ranked by the department they are applying to. Only the most outstanding candidates are considered further.

LEADERSHIP POTENTIAL

Successful applicants must be able to demonstrate a clear ability to lead. Evidence of leadership can be expressed in a multitude of ways but the capacity of Gates Cambridge Scholars to 'take others with them' is central to the success of the programme.

A COMMITMENT TO IMPROVING THE LIVES OF OTHERS

A defining characteristic of the Gates Cambridge Scholarships is the commitment of our Scholars to working for the greater good. Although broadly interpreted, this concept is nonetheless fundamental and sets this programme apart from others of its kind.

A GOOD ACADEMIC FIT WITH CAMBRIDGE

You should be able to persuade the Trust that your qualifications and aspirations accord with what Cambridge has to offer in its postgraduate programme. It is important that you can make a convincing argument for doing a particular postgraduate degree at Cambridge. It is therefore important that you fully research your proposed degree using the Graduate Studies Prospectus and the website of the department to which you are applying.

AVERAGE GPA OF RECIPIENTS

Usually a range between 3.7 and 4.0. Applicants must first be nominated by academic departments in Cambridge so need to be academically top flight and likely to be successful as a graduate student at Cambridge.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE AWARD

The Humanity in Action Fellowship brings together international groups of Fellows to study minority rights and produce original research exploring how and why individuals and societies, past and present, have resisted intolerance and protected democratic values. Separate programs take place for five weeks every summer in Amsterdam, Atlanta, Berlin, Copenhagen, Sarajevo, and Warsaw.

The objective of the Humanity in Action Fellowship programs is to facilitate a collective exploration of the social and political roots of discrimination, as well as to provide a forum where potential solutions to some of today’s most challenging issues can be considered and discussed. The programs are also intended to instill a responsibility among Humanity in Action Fellows to recognize and address the need to protect minorities and promote human rights—in their own communities and around the world.

HUMANITY IN ACTION FELLOWSHIP

CANDIDATE PROFILE

KEY CHARACTERISTICS SOUGHT BY REVIEW COMMITTEE

Humanity in Action seeks candidates who are passionate about active and responsible citizenship, diversity and human rights.

Successful Humanity in Action candidates and Fellows possess the following characteristics:

Intellectual Curiosity: Humanity in Action seeks candidates who are eager to discuss a range of historical and contemporary topics that drive, challenge and impact diverse societies. This means that Fellows should be eager to stretch their understanding of these issues beyond their own national contexts and specific fields of study.

Collaborative Spirit: Humanity in Action seeks candidates who thrive in collaborative settings and enjoy discussing challenging issues in culturally and internationally diverse groups. Humanity in Action’s pedagogy is based upon collective and intellectually demanding discussion with speakers, peers and host families. Fellows must possess the social maturity and skills to discuss sensitive topics.

Open-Mindedness: Humanity in Action seeks candidates who are open to challenging their personal convictions. The Humanity in Action Fellowship is not a program that serves to confirm the assumptions of beliefs already held by its Fellows. Instead, the program intends to broaden and stretch the Fellows’ understanding of complex human rights issues.

Entrepreneurial Drive: Humanity in Action seeks candidates who are entrepreneurial and innovative in developing Action Projects and careers as active and responsible citizens.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE AWARD

The MMUF Dissertation Support program offers two opportunities. The MMUF Dissertation Grants are available to graduate students who participated in the Mellon Mays Undergraduate Fellowship Program. The grants provide graduate students at the critical juncture of completing their graduate degrees with support to spend a year finishing the writing of the dissertation. The MMUF Travel and Research Grants provide former MMUF Fellows who are in doctoral programs with the financial means to complete their research prior to the start of dissertation writing. Funding is for one summer or one semester of travel and/or research support. Awards are based on the scholarly merit of the individual applications received.

AWARD STIPEND / BENEFITS

The MMUF Travel & Research grants provide up to $5,000 for a period of one summer or one semester. Grants may be used to cover dissertation research, travel to/from research sites, and photocopying of documents and/or the purchase of access to databases for research purposes. The award may not be used to purchase computer software or hardware, and may not be used for general living expenses. The MMUF Dissertation Grant offers up to $20,000 for a 12-month period. Fellows are encouraged to apply for dissertation grants from their home institutions. Winners who do not receive dissertation support from their own institutions are eligible to receive the full amount.

Again, it is important to ascertain whether potential applicants received Mellon Mays Undergraduate Fellowships during their baccalaureate study. Campuses that participate in the MMUF program (see list at www.mmuf.org/about/member-institutions) will have MMUF coordinators who are familiar with the program. However, candidates for MMUF Doctoral Support need not be doing their PhD work at MMUF campuses, as long as they were MMUF Fellows as undergraduates.

NSF GRADUATE RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP

AWARD DETAILS

EMPHASIS

- OTHER: Professional development opportunities for Fellows are available

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE AWARD

The Graduate Research Fellowship Program (GRFP) is a National Science Foundation-wide program that provides Fellowships to individuals selected early in their graduate careers based on their demonstrated potential for significant research achievements in science, technology, engineering or mathematics (STEM) or in STEM education. Three years of support is provided by the program for graduate study that leads to a research-based master's or doctoral degree in STEM or STEM education.

The program goals are: 1) to select, recognize, and financially support, early in their careers, individuals with the demonstrated potential to be high achieving scientists and engineers, and 2) to broaden participation in science and engineering of underrepresented groups, including women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and veterans. NSF especially encourages women, members of underrepresented minority groups, persons with disabilities, veterans, and undergraduate seniors to apply. GRFP is a critical program in NSF's overall strategy to develop the globally-engaged workforce necessary to ensure the Nation's leadership in advancing science and engineering research and innovation. It seeks individuals who show clear interest in a Foreign Service career at USAID, along with a strong academic background, a commitment to service, leadership skills, financial need for graduate school, diverse interests in areas such as international affairs and development, cultural sensitivity, writing skills, and an ability to overcome obstacles. #### BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE AWARD

Schwarzman Scholars is a highly-selective, fully-funded scholarship program, based at the distinguished Tsinghua University in Beijing, designed to build a global community of young leaders in business, political and civil society who can effectively serve as bridges between China and the rest of the world. We aim to achieve this by (1) recruiting promising young leaders from around the world, people who have the ambition and talent to take on executive roles in government, civil society or business (2) educate them about China's global role via a one-year Master's in global affairs at Tsinghua and (3) link them to senior mentors in their field in China and to their peers among China's rising young leaders. It is an unparalleled introduction to China and its role in the world.

A Schwarzman Scholar should demonstrate extraordinary leadership potential and interpersonal skills, the ability and initiative to anticipate and act on emerging opportunities, strong intellectual capacity, and exemplary character.

Schwarzman Scholars aims to build a professionally diverse cohort each year, and welcomes undergraduates/graduates and young professionals up to age 28 from any field who can articulate how the experience in China will help develop their skills as leaders. We expect the largest number of applications from fields and professions that are heavily influenced by trends in China, including but certainly not limited to economics, political science, sociology, history, business, public policy, international studies, environmental studies, energy, health, climate, urban studies, trade and others.

The program was launched with endorsements from Xi Jinping and Barack Obama and was designed with input from a wide array of advisors including former Canadian Prime Minister, Brian Mulroney; former United States Secretary of State, Henry Kissinger; former United States Secretary of State, Condoleezza Rice; former President of the World Bank, James Wolfensohn; former President of Yale University, Richard Levin; and former Vice Chancellor of Oxford University, Sir Colin Lucas among many others.

- 1) The candidate has demonstrated creativity, originality and initiative in one or more aspects of her/his life.
- 2) The candidate has demonstrated a commitment to and capacity for accomplishment that has required drive and sustained effort.
- 3) The candidate has demonstrated a commitment to the values expressed in the U.S. Constitution and the Bill of Rights. This would include, but not be limited to, support of human rights and the rule of law, opposition to unwarranted encroachment on personal liberty, and advancing the responsibilities of citizenship in a free society.

IN ADDITION, THE PROGRAM CONSIDERS TWO FURTHER CRITERIA:

- 1) The candidate gives promise of continued significant contributions. Those contributions are likely to reflect distinctive creativity, originality and initiative and will mark the candidate as a leading and influential figure within her/his fields of endeavor.
- 2) The candidate's graduate training is relevant to her/his long-term career goals and is of potential value in enhancing her/his future creativity and accomplishment.

The program seeks to create "a level playing field" for the consideration of applicants from different backgrounds, in different fields, at different stages in their educational development, and of different ages. Because New Americans and their families have had very different immigration experiences, we take those differences into account in assessing applicants' success in meeting the selection criteria.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE AWARD

The Woodrow Wilson Teaching Fellowship recruits and prepares the nation's best and brightest recent graduates and career changers with STEM—science, technology, engineering, and mathematics—backgrounds to teach in high-need secondary schools. The program provides candidates with a generous stipend ($30,000) to complete a master's degree in education at one of our partner institutions in Georgia. Once Fellows are certified as teachers at the end of their first year of coursework and clinical experience, they commit to teach for 3 years in a high-need urban or rural secondary school. All Fellows spend one full year in extensive preparation for teaching in this specific academic setting prior to becoming a teacher-of-record with salaried employment. Each Fellow receives intensive support and mentoring throughout the three-year teaching commitment and obtains lifelong membership in a national network of Woodrow Wilson Fellows who are intellectual leaders.
